

TORN TO PIECES.

Senators Make Many Changes in Wilson Bill.

It Will Not Be Reported This Week.

ARE HARD TO PLEASE

Democratic Senators Very Exacting in Demands.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The Democratic members of the senate committee on finance have decided that they will not be able to report the tariff bill to the full committee tomorrow as they had announced they would do, and one of the members of the sub-committee which has had the bill under consideration said he would not attempt to say when the bill could be reported.

"I shall be very well satisfied," he said, "if the bill is in shape to be reported by the beginning of next week."

The reason for the postponement is discovered in the fact that the work of satisfying Democratic senators has been found a very difficult one, and the construction of a bill that is sure to be accepted by them requiring many changes of purpose and alterations of the names at first made.

When the sub-committee began their work they had before them the draft of a bill upon which it was believed it would be an easy matter to secure an agreement, but this bill has been changed in some respects several times and has become so worn from handling and alterations that it has become necessary to destroy the original copy and replace it with a new one. There is still much demand for concessions on the part of senators on minor items, and many of the most important features of the bill are unmet upon. Sugar is included in this list and it looks as if its fate would be about the last question to be determined by the sub-committee.

MORE HAWAIIAN ELOQUENCE.

Several Senators Will Enlighten the Country This Week.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senators Daniel, Cullinan and White, of California have given notice of speeches on the Hawaiian resolution for this week, and it is probable other senators will speak upon the subject before next Saturday. There will be an effort to have the resolution disposed of during the week, as there will also be to get Senator Stewart's bond resolution off the calendar. There will probably be some speeches on this question also. Indeed, the Senate will make the week, as far as possible, a cleaning-up week, so as to make way for the tariff debate, which will necessarily prevent the consideration of less important subjects when it shall once be begun.

The special orders for the week include the consideration of the printing bill, the Russian thistle and McCormick bills.

The fight over the silver-seigniorage bill will be resumed in the house and Mr. Bland is confident there will be a quorum on hand to order the previous question either to-day or to-morrow. Once the necessary quorum is obtained, and that is only a question of time, as the opponents of the measure have practically abandoned hope of defeating the bill, it will be brought to a vote if need be by a special order from the committee on rules, the speaker having promised a special rule if the emergency demands it.

On Wednesday the Joy-O'Neill contested election case will come up and be disposed of. The Cob-Whately case and the English-Hillbrow case may follow. If not, the remainder of the week will probably be devoted to appropriation bills, the fortifications bill being the first.

SOLVING THE SILVER PROBLEM.

Representative Hicks Has a Plan for the Settlement of the Matter.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Just before the house adjourned Saturday Representative Hicks of Pennsylvania introduced a bill which he believes will be an excellent plan for the settlement of the silver question. The bill is in crude shape at present, and was drafted by John Danner of Philadelphia. The bill is entitled: "A bill for the encouragement of the mining of silver in the United States, and the formation of silver guaranteed banks."

It provides in brief that any person may deposit with the government $50,000 worth of silver bullion, and by depositing fifteen-and-a-half per cent of the value of the bullion in interest-bearing government bonds, and in return against any depreciation of the silver, he may receive $50,000 in legal tender treasury notes, redeemable in coin.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 19.—News comes of a double murder at a wedding in Allegheny county. Among those present was Daniel Slaughter, of Carroll county, Virginia. Just as the wedding ceremony ended Slaughter passed near an old man, who seized his hand and made some remark. Slaughter spoke roughly and was told to leave the house. He did so, but in a few minutes returned. The friends of the old man were angry, and a passenger endeavored to keep them quiet while at the same time he told Slaughter to keep quiet. Suddenly Slaughter sprang at John Bare and struck him in the heart. Bare fell dead and Slaughter made an attempt to again stab him, but the bride seized his hand. She was cut and bare arms. The squaw had on a ring with six marks, which the Apaches say represent six murders. These added to the eleven others whom Kid and his followers have killed during the last two years in Arizona, indicate the ravages of this renegade.
